

Anders Mynster is a senior specialist in wireless systems and IoT at FORCE technology. He has been working both on industrial and academic projects primarily focused on IoT for the past 12 years. He is member of the standardization political forum, an advisory group to the board of directors at Danish standards, ISO/IEC expert within IoT in JTC1/SC41 and is vice-chair of IEEE Denmark. He holds a master degree in electrical and electronic engineering with specialization in wireless communication from DTU.